Overview

The Lubin School of Business at Pace University partners with international higher education institutions to deliver short-term certificate programs that address today’s complex business education needs. Our faculty’s expertise in academic disciplines such as Financial Accounting, Management, Brand Marketing, Global Strategy, and Management of Information Technology and our accessibility to New York City’s financial district provides groups with a uniquely relevant and practical business education.

Expertise – Top Scholars and Practitioners

The faculty of the Lubin School of Business bring a world of business experience into the classroom. In addition to prior experience, many full-time faculty members remain consultants to prestigious corporate, professional, educational, and government organizations. Our faculty are frequently quoted in the media and have had their work featured in such publications as The New York Times and The Wall Street Journal as well as some of the world's most respected business journals.

Accessibility - The Wall Street Experience

The Lubin School of Business is strategically located within the heart of the world’s financial district, Wall Street. All of our programs have allowed participants opportunities to experience New York City’s business environment on a first hand basis and network with top-level executives from:
